NEW QUESTION: 1
While Vault provides businesses tons of functionality out of the box, what feature allows you to extend its functionality with solutions written by third-party providers?
A. control groups
B. vault agent
C. namespaces
D. plugin backend

Answer: D
Explanation: Plugin backends are the components in Vault that can be implemented separately from Vault's built-in backends. These backends can be either authentication or secrets engines. All Vault auth and secret backends are considered plugins. This simple concept allows both built-in and external plugins to be treated like Legos. Any plugin can exist at multiple different locations. Different versions of a plugin may be at each one, with each version differing from Vault's version.
