NEW QUESTION: 1
You are developing an ASP.NET Core web application by using an Entity Framework code-first approach.
The application uses a SQLite database.
You make changes to the classes in the model. You must apply the changes to the database.
You need to suggest an approach to reliably handle the Entity Framework migrations.
Which three actions should you perform? Each correct answer presents a part of the solution.
NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.
A. Modify the scaffolded migration script to drop the modified tables.

B. Modify the scaffolded migration script to create new tables with the migration changes.
C. Run the following command: dotnet ef migrations add
D. Modify the scaffolded migration script to drop the existing database and create the new database.
E. Run the following command: dotnet ef database update
Answer: B,C,D
Explanation:
Explanation
E: Run dotnet ef migrations add InitialCreate to scaffold a migration and create the initial set of tables for the model.
C: You can workaround some of the SQLite limitations by manually writing code in your migrations to perform a table rebuild. A table rebuild involves renaming the existing table, creating a new table, copying data to the new table, and dropping the old table.
D: SQLite does not support all migrations (schema changes) due to limitations in SQLite. For new development, consider dropping the database and creating a new one rather than using migrations when your model changes.

NEW QUESTION: 2
Denish is the administrator for a cloud computing vendor. He is evaluating the security benefits and threats of cloud computing. Cloud computing has a number of challenges, which of the following is a cloud less susceptible to, than a traditionally hosted server?
A. Privilege Escalation
B. DDoS attacks
C. Hard drive failure
D. Internal Data Theft
Answer: B
Explanation:
Because the cloud is a distributed network, with distributed servers, it is more resilient against distributed denial of service attacks. It takes a great more resources to successfully launch a denial of service attack against a cloud.
Answer option B is incorrect There is no difference in privilege escalation between a cloud and a traditionally hosted server.
Answer option A is incorrect. There is no difference in internal data threat between a cloud and a traditionally hosted server.
Answer option D is incorrect. Actually a hard drive failure is no more or less likely in a cloud than a traditionally hosted server. However, if the server holds multiple virtualized systems, the impact could actually be greater in the cloud.
